“ My dear Tony you will be missed so much. My heart is just breaking. Thank you for coming in to our lives. You always ask about how I was doing. I was always happy to see you. You and Robert had such good times together. No more pain now. Prayers for your family.

“ Tony was the most amazing person I knew. He was my secret keeper, my comfort when I was sad, my voice of reason. My favorite memory was actually a week and a half ago when he was in town visiting and we got on the subject of coming home. He stopped in the middle of our discussions and said Emily, anytime I say home or talk about home, it's here. Right then I realized that home isn't a place, home is a feeling, home is where you make it. I will forever cherish all the memories that Tony and I made together because they were some really unforgettable ones. I'm going to miss him more than I'll ever be able to express. I'm so very sorry this has happened. I'm just happy I got to hug him the Tuesday he left to go home. I will forever cherish you D'Anthony Lewis. I miss your wonderful would and your bright smile. I still cannot believe this.

“ Tony was one of the best people I've ever known. This world was sweeter with him in it. Honestly my life was sweeter with him in it.. just being able to call him my friend was a gift. He is that kind of soul. And I say "is" because I know Tony's soul lives on in heaven. Until we meet again my friend.

QU

“ I always wanted to sing karaoke but was nervous and afraid to get up on stage. One night, Tone Loc (my nickname for him), was there and I kept going on and on to him about how I want to get up and sing but was too nervous. He said, ” Girl get on up there, who cares it’s just fun!” He encouraged me to get up and sing and I had a blast. That was my first time to karaoke and I have been doing it ever since. After the song, he laughed and said he was surprised and that it was not bad lol. That laugh, I’ll always remember his laugh. He was an angel on Earth and anybody who knew him was blessed to know him. We will see him again and I am thankful I had the opportunity to call him a friend. Rest Easy Tony. 🙏❤️
