“ I miss you so very much. You were one of my best friends, you were my bestie, I miss talking to you each and every day all throughout the day from morning to night and in between. Just knowing you were always there for me and I tried to always be there for you. It is so hard not being able to talk to someone anymore that not so very long ago I was able to talk to every day. I hope and I pray you have found peace. No more loneliness, no more struggling, no more pain or suffering of any kind. I love you and I miss you dear friend. I will never forget you. So grateful that we shared this journey called life together. Be with the angels and all that have passed before. Please look out for us, I know your not far away. Thank you for the signs. 💜
