“ All of your friends and family, everyone you know makeup the fabric of our life. Maybe you don't see them or talk to them as often as you should, but you know they are there. You can feel them, and it makes you whole and strong like a child's protective blanket or Superman's Cape. Whenever we lose one that we love it rips a hole in our life's cloth. You can sense the emptiness it leaves. As we travel through the years of our life our cloth gets ripped and torn and is left thread barren or in ragged tatters. Another giant hole has just been ripped in our life's cloth and we are more exposed than before. Love and miss you Dawna.

Dawna and I sheared the same love in music, I will miss terribly not shearing my music with her.

“ I will miss my precious, sweet cousin. She's with God now and I believe she's with her mom and dad in heaven. Dawna was always fun and I loved her very much. She always led us cousins on fun adventures in Oklahoma. I will her greatly. Thanks Dawna for the fun. I wish I spent more time with you at our reunion.

“ I'm the youngest cousin so I remember when we would visit from California I didn't get to hang with the big girls, but she was always funny and joking around. I will miss your posts on fb and the cat fights with other cousins. I picked her up at the airport for our cousin s reunion and I said how will I know it's you, she I'll be the old lady with the hot pink suitcase.

“ Dawna was always there for me as kid. She was the fun aunt, the crazy, silly one. But most of all the one I could talk to about anything. The one I went to when I didn't want to talk about something with mom or dad.

She loved with her whole heart. Laughed with her entire soul, and embraced her love of life and our beautiful planet with her infinte being.
