“ I miss my friend...the one who would come over and we could talk for a couple of hours. The friend who loved to watch the different birds at my feeders. She was so surprised when she saw a hummingbird up close. My friend who doggies would meet my dog at the fence and Chaz and Sandy would run up and down barking at each other, but when they came over, they were all friends. Debra actually got to enjoy my kitties. I miss my friend who loved my cooking, especially the ham and pineapple. (She ate all the pineapple). I know she is OK now. I wish family the best and want them to know we are here if we can ever help in the future.
