“ *In Loving Memory of Our Beloved Cousin, Jesse, you were the light of our family gatherings—so full of life, laughter, and love. From the unforgettable days of the 1960s and '70s, you brought joy to every moment. We remember your love for dancing, your fun-loving spirit, and how you made each gathering brighter just by being there. You were the life of our parties—always the first on the dance floor, always the one with a smile and a kind word. We will forever cherish those memories of family, music, and joy. It all feels like yesterday, yet the years have moved so quickly. Now, we imagine you in heaven, dancing in your own beautiful way. Though we miss you deeply, your spirit lives on in every song, every laugh, every dance. We love you, Jesse.
You will always be in our hearts.*

“ So many memories, Comadre. Always smiling, always a joy to be around. We were high school classmates and friends. You are my daughters', Veronica, Baptismal Madrina. We had a lot of laughs (and tears), but always looked on the bright side. Music and dancing were your second love, because Arcaly was your first. I love you, my friend. Til we meet again.. Julia
