“ Rickey was like my older brother when he married my sister when I was 15 years old. Rickey taught me how to work with lumber. He helped me and Tom replace my mom's roof 35 years ago. We played poker almost every Friday night at Greg and Paula's house for years. We fished together and I even worked with Rickey in the good ole days. We shared more laughs than tears. Rickey always had the answers to fixing whatever broke around the house. He changed my mom's house to the Pink Lady on Friday nights when we celebrated making another weekend. To know Rickey, I consider myself as a blessed man to call him family. Rest in peace my brother.

“ My table gave me problems again this morning Rickey. It's been a while since it's given me any problems. Probably because you were so good at fixing it. The last time you fixed it you told me nothing else could be done for it she's so dry rotted you've done everything you can. Anyway, I'm rambling. RIP friend.

“ Rick was a wonderful brother-in-law. He gave so much love to our family the whole family. He was there for anything for anybody to help them out in times of trouble or when they needed somebody really really smart to help figure out problems he was there all the time for any of us. He LOVED his kids, grandkids, fishing, riding motorcycles, 🏍️woodworking, enjoying nature, bbqs,, playing poker, and laughing 😄 There are too many memories to remember just one, He taught me and others a lot of skills too! There was nothing he could not do! LOTS of incredible memories,. Too many to list but most of all, I'll miss his smile and blue eyes! we had so many good times !

thank you Rick for the great times and that you were there for us ! until we meet again handsome, smart and gentle man, . Remember that love never dies we keep you in our hearts and our memories and forever will remind each other about you. Although you had to leave due to illness , you will NOT BE forgotten . Until we' meet again in the great beautiful place that you're in now. Say hi to my daddy and Aunt paula and Gregory and well all our family that's already there. Thank you Ric for everything. Love you, Barbara.

“ My brother was one of a kind. He had a huge heart. I remember the times I hung on for dear life riding wheelies with him on his motorcycle. I trusted him to always take care of me. We always had good laughs with one another. We'll share them again soon in Heaven. Love you 💕
